

Health and Safety Policy Statement of Intent

Overall responsibility for health and safety within Cartwrights Waste Disposal Services Limited is that of the Director Mr. John Cartwright, who is the director responsible for health and safety within the company. The company will comply with the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974 and all other relevant legislation to meet the standards required to protect all of our employees whilst at work and any person likely to be affected by our work operations.

The objective of the policy is to detail the standards expected of employees and sub-contractors if appointed who undertake work on our behalf so that we can demonstrate that Health & Safety will never be compromised for any other objectives.

Hazards will be identified and the risk of injury, disease or dangerous occurrence will be minimised by the achievement and maintenance of high standards of health and safety. These standards will be attained, so far as is reasonably practicable by:

- The provision of such information, instruction, training and supervision as is necessary to ensure the health, safety and welfare of company employees.
- The provision and maintenance of safe access to and egress from any workplace under the control of the company.
- The co-operation of employees of the company to enable statutory obligations to be met.
- A visible management commitment to higher standards of health and safety achieved through monitoring performance and the continuous improvement of the health and safety culture throughout the company.
- The provision of first aid; fire prevention and control; welfare facilities and working environments that are, as far as is reasonable, without risk to health.
- Arrangements for ensuring safety and the absence of risks to health in connection with the use, handling, storage, transportation and disposal of articles and substances.
- Providing any necessary personal protective clothing and equipment required as the result of a risk assessment.
- The provision and maintenance of plant and systems of work that are safe and without risk.

The policy will be maintained and updated accordingly, particularly as the business changes in nature and size. To ensure this, the policy and the way in which it is implemented will be reviewed annually.
